Part A – Participant Waiver

Explanation of the Joint and Survivor Annuity

In the event of a loan default, your benefits will be reduced. To obtain a loan you must agree to the potential waiver of future benefits. Following is an explanation of the benefits that you must waive.

Under the terms of the Plan, if you are single, your vested account balance will be used to purchase a Single Life Annuity. This means that beginning on your Normal Retirement Date, you will receive a monthly pension for the rest of your life. After your death, all payments will cease. If you are married, your vested account balance will be used to purchase a Joint and Survivor Annuity Benefit, unless you and your spouse elect otherwise. Under a Joint and Survivor benefit, you will receive a reduced pension beginning on your Normal Retirement Date and continuing for your lifetime. If your spouse is alive after your death, he or she will continue to receive a pension during his or her lifetime. The pension will stop when both you and your spouse die. The Joint and Survivor Annuity will have the same actuarial value as the Single Life Annuity.

Explanation of Pre-Retirement Spouse's Annuity

If you should die prior to your retirement, your beneficiary may be entitled to a benefit from the Plan. If you are not married, you can designate whomever you wish to be the beneficiary of this death benefit.

If you are married (or later get married), the law requires that the death benefit be paid to your spouse in the form of annuity beginning on the earliest date on which you could have retired if you did not die. Thereafter, benefit payments will be made each month for the remainder of your spouse's life. This is called a Pre-Retirement Spouse's Annuity.

Consent

I understand that in the event of a loan default, my future benefits will be reduced by the amount of the outstanding loan.

I understand that my spouse's vested benefit shall be used as collateral and security for the loan. I further understand that in the event of default, my spouse's accrued benefits under the Plan will be reduced and that possible benefits payable to me as beneficiary in the future may be reduced because of this loan.
